

Women of Impact Network

Since 2012, Girls Inc.'s Women of Impact—a network of women from across the Bay Area—have played an important role in creating opportunities for girls in underserved Alameda County communities. Through their support and engagement, more girls in Alameda County are equipped to navigate gender, economic, and racial barriers and grow into healthy, educated, and independent adults.

Members in the Women of Impact Network

Women of Impact are civic-minded philanthropists who are passionate about advancing girls' rights. Members contribute a minimum of $1,000 per year (paid monthly, quarterly, or as a lump sum). This investment is vital to providing programming that builds girls' confidence and leadership skills, equips them with knowledge about their health and promotes healthy living, and prepares them for college and careers.

WHY JOIN WOMEN OF IMPACT?

It's Critical

Support work that addresses the real barriers girls face every day. Giving together means the impact of your investment is amplified.

It's Social

Connect with like-minded women who want to build a better future for girls.

It's Hands-On

Learn about girls' needs locally and engage directly through customized volunteer opportunities.

Women of Impact are important members of the Girls Inc. community and engage with girls, staff, and one another in ways that are tailored to their interests. This includes sharing their paths as professional women, building relationships through networking events, and collectively deciding how scholarship awards will be distributed.

"Watching the girls create their own success through the programs at Girls Inc. gives me hope for the future. Becoming a Woman of Impact was the perfect way for me to bring my resources together with other women to make a larger and more meaningful impact than I could've on my own."

JULIE BAEDER, Senior Vice President, Cypress Group at Morgan Stanley and Women of Impact Co-Chair

"Thank you so much for everything you have done for us. You are such wonderful women and the words strong, smart, and bold are only a few words that describe you all."
